

Case 2 (2nd, Feb)

- 22 yrs-old, male
- This patient was introduced from his family practitioner to get the radiofrequency catheter ablation for his PSVT.
- He has already undergone catheter ablation two times at the other institute, and he was diagnosed as having the accessory pathway of right-sided. However, he has continued having the tachycardia attacks many times, and he was determined to undergo catheter ablation again.

NSR Case 2 (2nd, Feb)

